

Detailed Leave Policy

Narsimha Tech | Effective: 1 January 2025 | Internal Use Only

1. Introduction & Guiding Principles

1.1 Purpose

This Detailed Leave Policy outlines all leave entitlements and procedures for Narsimha Tech employees. It is designed to support employee wellbeing and work-life balance while ensuring continuity of business operations and fairness in how leave is administered across teams.

1.2 Scope

This policy applies to all Permanent Full-Time and Permanent Part-Time employees (on a pro-rated basis), and, where specified, to Fixed-Term Contract employees. Consultants and contractors are not covered by this policy and any time-off arrangements for them are governed solely by their Service Agreement.

1.3 General Principles

All leave is subject to manager approval and business requirements. Leave entitlements described in this policy represent Company policy and, where local statutory minimums are higher than the entitlements set out here, the higher statutory entitlement applies. HR maintains jurisdiction-specific addenda for employees based outside India where local leave law differs materially from this policy.

1.4 Leave Year

Unless otherwise specified for a particular leave type, the leave year runs from 1 January to 31 December, aligned with the calendar year. New joiners' entitlements for their first partial year are pro-rated from their date of joining.

1.5 Definitions

- "Working Day" excludes weekends and gazetted public holidays at the employee's base location.
- "Leave Balance" means the unused, accrued entitlement visible to the employee in the HR Self-Service Portal at any given time.
- "Encashment" means the conversion of unused, eligible leave into a monetary payment, applicable only to specified leave types and circumstances described in this policy.

2. Annual Leave

2.1 Entitlement

All permanent full-time employees are entitled to 21 working days of paid annual leave per calendar year. Part-time employees receive leave on a pro-rated basis, calculated as 21 days multiplied by the ratio of contracted weekly hours to the standard 40-hour week.

2.2 Accrual

Annual leave accrues at 1.75 days per completed month of service, beginning from the date of joining. This means an employee who joins on 1 April will have accrued 1.75 days by 1 May, 3.5 days by 1 June, and so on, reaching the full 21-day entitlement by the end of a complete calendar year of service from 1 January.

2.3 Accrual During Probation

During the probation period, leave accrues but may only be taken after employment is confirmed. This means an employee may accumulate a leave balance during probation that becomes available for use only once the confirmation letter described in the Terms of Employment, Section 4.4, has been issued. In exceptional circumstances (for example, a pre-planned family event booked before joining), HR may approve early use of accrued, unconfirmed leave at its discretion.

2.4 Notice Period for Requesting Leave

Employees must submit leave requests at least 2 weeks in advance for periods of 3 or more days, and at least 48 hours in advance for single days. These notice periods are designed to allow managers sufficient time to plan for team coverage; shorter notice may be accommodated for genuine emergencies at the manager's discretion.

2.5 Approval Process

Manager approval is required and is subject to team availability. Where multiple team members request overlapping leave that would leave the team under-resourced, managers may apply a "first request, first approved" principle, fairness considerations (such as prior leave history), or a team rota system, communicated transparently to the team in advance.

2.6 Carry-Forward and Forfeiture

A maximum of 5 unused annual leave days may be carried over to the following calendar year; any carried-over leave must be used by 31 March or it will be forfeited without compensation. Annual leave in excess of the 5-day carry-forward cap that remains unused at year-end is forfeited at 31 December, except where the employee was prevented from taking leave due to a Company-initiated freeze on leave during a critical business period, in which case HR may apply a discretionary extension.

2.7 Leave During Notice Period

Employees serving a notice period may take pre-approved annual leave during that period, subject to handover requirements being met; the Company may decline new leave requests submitted during notice where they would materially disrupt the handover.

2.8 Encashment

Confirmed employees may encash a limited portion of unused annual leave balance at the time of the annual leave year-end true-up or upon exit, subject to a cap communicated annually by HR (typically aligned with the carry-forward cap) and calculated on the basis of basic salary plus applicable fixed allowances divided by 26 working days, multiplied by the number of days encashed.

2.9 Worked Example — Accrual and Carry-Forward

Month	Cumulative Accrual	Days Taken	Running Balance
January	1.75	0	1.75
April	7.00	2	5.00
August	12.25	4	8.25
December	21.00	14	7.00
Carry-forward into next year (capped at 5)	—	—	5.00 (2 days forfeited)

2.10 Half-Day Leave

Employees may apply for half-day annual leave, taken either in the morning (before core hours) or afternoon (after core hours), subject to the same approval process as full-day leave, deducted from the balance at 0.5 days.

3. Sick Leave

3.1 Entitlement

Narsimha Tech provides 10 paid sick leave days per calendar year. Sick leave does not carry over; it resets on 1 January each year, and any unused balance at year-end is not encashable.

3.2 Notification Requirements

For absences of 1-2 consecutive days, employees must notify their manager before 9:30 AM (or as soon as practicable given the nature of the illness). Notification should be made via the channel the team has agreed (instant message, phone call, or HR Self-Service Portal flag), and should be followed by a formal leave application in the portal upon return or as soon as reasonably possible.

3.3 Medical Certification

For absences of 3 or more consecutive days, a medical certificate from a registered medical practitioner is mandatory, to be submitted within 3 working days of returning to work. Failure to provide certification when required may result in the absence being treated as unpaid leave or deducted from another leave category at HR's discretion.

3.4 Long-Term Illness Accommodation

Employees with chronic conditions may apply for a Long-Term Illness accommodation through HR. This may include a structured plan combining sick leave, leave without pay, flexible working, and, where appropriate, referral to the Company's Employee Assistance Programme (EAP) and/or occupational health support. Long-Term Illness accommodations are reviewed every 3 months or upon a material change in the employee's medical situation, with the employee's consent for any information sharing required to manage the accommodation.

3.5 Sick Leave Exceeding Entitlement

Sick leave beyond the annual entitlement will be treated as unpaid leave or, at the employee's request, deducted from annual leave balance. Where an employee has a Long-Term Illness accommodation in place, HR may apply a modified approach consistent with that accommodation rather than the default treatment.

3.6 Sick Leave Abuse

Patterns suggestive of sick leave abuse (for example, repeated single-day absences immediately before or after weekends or public holidays, without supporting evidence) may be reviewed by HR and the line manager and, where appropriate, addressed through the informal or formal disciplinary process described in the Terms of Employment.

3.7 Sick Leave While on Annual Leave

An employee who falls ill while on pre-approved annual leave may, upon providing appropriate evidence (such as a medical certificate, where the illness lasted 3 or more days), have the affected days reclassified as sick leave rather than annual leave, subject to HR approval.

3.8 Mental Health

Sick leave may be used for mental health reasons on the same basis as physical illness; employees are not required to disclose a specific diagnosis to their manager, though medical certification requirements in Section 3.3 apply equally. The Company encourages employees experiencing mental health difficulties to make use of the Employee Assistance Programme described in the Employee Handbook.

4. Casual Leave

4.1 Entitlement

Employees are entitled to 6 paid casual leave days per year for personal emergencies and urgent personal matters not covered by other leave categories — for example, an unexpected household emergency, an urgent personal appointment, or a short-notice family matter.

4.2 No Carry-Forward or Encashment

Casual leave cannot be accumulated, encashed, or carried forward; the full entitlement resets on 1 January and any unused balance lapses at year-end.

4.3 Maximum Consecutive Days

A maximum of 2 consecutive casual leave days may be taken at one time. Where a personal matter requires more than 2 consecutive days, the employee should apply for annual leave or, if appropriate, another leave category for the additional days.

4.4 Approval

Prior approval must be obtained wherever possible; in genuine emergencies, the manager must be informed as soon as reasonably practicable, with a formal application submitted in the portal upon return.

4.5 Restriction on Combining with Annual Leave

Casual leave may not be combined with annual leave to extend a vacation. For example, an employee may not take 2 days of casual leave immediately adjacent to a period of annual leave where the evident purpose is to extend a holiday rather than to address a genuine personal emergency; managers are expected to exercise reasonable judgement in identifying such patterns.

4.6 Casual Leave for New Joiners

New joiners are eligible for the full casual leave entitlement from their date of joining, without pro-rata, recognising the short-notice, emergency nature of this leave category.

5. Maternity Leave

5.1 Eligibility

Female employees who have completed 80 calendar days of employment are entitled to 26 weeks of fully paid maternity leave for the first two children. For the third child onwards, the entitlement reduces to 12 weeks, in line with applicable statutory provisions.

5.2 Commencement of Leave

Maternity leave may commence up to 8 weeks before the expected date of delivery. The employee may choose to commence leave later than 8 weeks before delivery, provided medical advice supports continued working, but the total leave duration remains capped at the statutory entitlement described in Section 5.1.

5.3 Documentation

A medical certificate indicating the expected delivery date must be submitted to HR at least 30 days before commencement of leave. Following delivery, a copy of the birth certificate or hospital discharge summary should be submitted to HR for records and benefits administration purposes.

5.4 Nursing Breaks

Upon return, nursing breaks of 15 minutes each are permitted twice per day for up to 15 months post-delivery. These breaks are in addition to the standard lunch break and should be scheduled in coordination with the line manager to balance the employee's needs with team coverage.

5.5 Work-From-Home Extension

Narsimha Tech additionally offers an optional 4-week paid work-from-home extension following the statutory leave period, subject to role suitability. Employees wishing to use this extension should confirm with their line manager and HR at least 4 weeks before the end of statutory maternity leave, so that the role's suitability for temporary remote work can be assessed.

5.6 Maternity Leave and Performance Reviews

Employees on maternity leave during a formal review cycle (Section 7 of the Terms of Employment) are not disadvantaged for the period of leave; a pro-rated or "carried forward" rating approach is applied based on performance during the portion of the cycle actually worked, in consultation with HR.

5.7 Pregnancy-Related Illness Before Leave Commences

Pregnancy-related illness occurring before the commencement of maternity leave is treated as sick leave under Section 3, with appropriate flexibility applied by HR given the circumstances, including waiver of the standard medical certification timeline where appropriate.

5.8 Miscarriage and Pregnancy Loss

In the event of miscarriage or pregnancy loss, the employee is entitled to paid leave for a period determined in consultation with HR and supported by medical documentation, treated with sensitivity and confidentiality, separate from standard sick leave categorisation where the employee prefers.

5.9 Adoption Leave

A primary adoptive parent of a child under the age of 1 year is entitled to leave on terms equivalent to maternity leave described above, subject to submission of the adoption order or equivalent legal documentation to HR.

6. Paternity Leave

6.1 Entitlement

Male employees and non-birthing partners are entitled to 2 weeks (10 working days) of fully paid paternity leave.

6.2 Timing

Leave must be taken within 3 months of the child's birth or legal adoption. Requests submitted after this window will not be honoured under this policy, save for exceptional circumstances approved by HR (for example, a medical complication delaying the employee's ability to take leave).

6.3 Documentation

Supporting documentation (birth certificate, hospital discharge summary, or adoption order) is required before payment is processed. Where the documentation is not immediately available (for example, a birth certificate still being processed by the relevant authority), the employee may take the leave and submit documentation within 30 days of returning to work.

6.4 Splitting of Leave

Paternity leave may be split into two separate periods, each of at least 5 consecutive working days, to allow the employee flexibility — for example, taking the first period immediately following the birth and a second period later within the 3-month window to support the family during a different phase.

6.5 Notification

Employees should notify their line manager and HR of an expected birth or adoption as early as practicable, recognising that exact delivery dates cannot always be predicted, to support team planning.

7. Bereavement Leave

7.1 Immediate Family

In the event of the death of an immediate family member — defined as spouse or domestic partner, child, parent, sibling, or parent-in-law — employees are entitled to 5 working days of paid bereavement leave.

7.2 Extended Family

For the death of an extended family member (grandparent, grandchild, aunt, uncle, or first cousin), 2 paid days are granted.

7.3 Process

Leave must be requested as soon as possible, and supporting documentation (such as a death certificate or obituary notice) may be required upon the employee's return, handled with sensitivity by HR.

7.4 Additional Time

Additional time off may be approved as annual leave or unpaid leave in exceptional circumstances at the HR Director's discretion — for example, where the employee needs to travel internationally for the funeral and related arrangements, or where cultural or religious mourning practices extend beyond the standard entitlement.

7.5 Bereavement Leave and Travel

Where bereavement requires international travel, employees should also refer to the Global Travel Policy for guidance on any related travel support, though bereavement travel is typically arranged personally rather than through the Company travel system.

8. Public Holidays

8.1 Holiday Calendar

Narsimha Tech observes all national public holidays mandated by the Government of India. A published holiday calendar is issued to all employees at the start of each calendar year via the HR Self-Service Portal and the Company intranet.

8.2 Weekend Substitution

Where a public holiday falls on a Saturday or Sunday, the following Monday is granted as the substitute holiday, unless the relevant state or regional authority designates an alternative substitute date.

8.3 Working on a Public Holiday

Employees required to work on a public holiday are entitled to a compensatory day off (CTO) to be used within 30 calendar days, or overtime pay at 1.5x the standard daily rate for non-exempt roles, consistent with the overtime provisions in the Terms of Employment.

8.4 Regional and Optional Holidays

In addition to the national holiday calendar, employees may select a limited number of optional/restricted holidays each year from a Company-published list reflecting regional and religious diversity (for example, Pongal, Onam, or Eid, depending on location), subject to a cap communicated annually by HR and manager approval based on team coverage needs.

8.5 Public Holidays for International Remote Staff

Remote employees based outside India observe the public holiday calendar applicable to their work location, as communicated by HR at the start of each year, rather than the India national holiday calendar.

9. Leave Without Pay (LWP)

9.1 Eligibility

Employees who have exhausted all applicable leave balances may apply for Leave Without Pay. LWP is not an entitlement and is granted at the Company's discretion based on the genuineness of the need and operational feasibility.

9.2 Approval

LWP requires written approval from the line manager and the HR Business Partner. Requests should specify the expected duration and reason, and managers should assess the impact on team operations before approving.

9.3 Impact on Continuity of Service

LWP extending beyond 30 calendar days may affect the continuity of service calculation for gratuity and other statutory entitlements. HR will inform the employee in writing of any such impact before the LWP is approved, so the employee can make an informed decision.

9.4 Effect on Employment Status

LWP does not affect the employee's employment status but will be reflected on the payslip as a salary deduction for the period concerned. Benefits such as group health insurance generally continue during LWP, subject to confirmation by HR on a case-by-case basis depending on the duration and reason for the LWP.

9.5 Maximum Duration

Except where required to support a Long-Term Illness accommodation, statutory leave (such as extended maternity-related needs), or another exceptional circumstance approved by the HR Director, LWP is generally capped at 90 calendar days in a rolling 12-month period.

10. Special and Discretionary Leave Categories

10.1 Birthday Leave

As described in the Employee Handbook, employees are entitled to 1 additional day of leave on or adjacent to their birthday, to be taken within 7 calendar days of the birthday and applied for through the standard annual leave process, distinct from the regular annual leave balance.

10.2 Marriage Leave

Employees are entitled to 5 working days of paid leave in connection with their own marriage, to be taken within a window of 30 days before to 30 days after the event, subject to supporting documentation (marriage certificate or invitation) submitted within 30 days of return.

10.3 Jury Duty / Civic Duty Leave

Employees summoned for jury duty or other mandatory civic duty are granted paid leave for the duration of the summons, upon submission of the official summons document to HR, distinct from other leave categories.

10.4 Voting Leave

Where local law provides for paid time off to vote in a public election, the Company grants such leave in accordance with the applicable statutory provision and any related Company communication issued ahead of election dates.

10.5 Sabbatical Leave

Employees with 5 or more years of continuous service may apply for unpaid sabbatical leave of up to 3 months for personal development, further study, or extended travel, subject to HR Director approval, a defined return-to-role commitment, and at least 60 days' advance notice.

10.6 Volunteering Leave

Employees may take up to 2 paid days per year to volunteer with a Company-recognised charitable organisation, subject to manager approval and submission of basic confirmation of the volunteering activity.

11. Leave Application Process & Governance

11.1 Submission Channel

All leave requests must be submitted through the Narsimha Tech HR Self-Service Portal at <https://hr.narsimhatech.com>, except where the portal is unavailable, in which case the emergency process in Section 11.3 applies.

11.2 Manager Response Times

Managers are required to respond to requests within 2 working days. Requests not actioned within this window are automatically escalated to the HR Business Partner for visibility, though this does not constitute automatic approval.

11.3 Emergency Requests

Emergency requests may be submitted by email to leave@narsimhatech.com, followed by a portal submission upon return. This process exists for situations (illness, family emergency) where advance portal submission is not practicable.

11.4 Disputes and Escalation

Disputes regarding leave approval may be escalated to the HR department via grievance@narsimhatech.com, and, if unresolved, follow the four-step Grievance Redressal process described in the Employee Handbook.

11.5 Handover Responsibility

Employees are responsible for ensuring pending tasks are handed over before commencing leave, including setting an out-of-office message, delegating urgent approvals where the system allows, and briefing the manager or a nominated colleague on any time-sensitive items.

11.6 Leave Records and Audits

HR periodically audits leave records for accuracy and policy compliance. Employees and managers are jointly responsible for ensuring that leave taken is correctly recorded in the HRIS in a timely manner, including retrospective regularisation of any informally agreed absence within 5 working days.

11.7 Interaction With Public Holidays and Weekends

Where a period of approved leave spans a weekend or public holiday, only working days within that period are deducted from the relevant leave balance; weekends and public holidays falling within the leave period are not counted against the balance.

11.8 Summary Table of Leave Entitlements

12. Leave for International and Remote Delivery Employees

12.1 Overview

Narsimha Tech's remote delivery teams operate across 12 countries. While the core principles of this policy apply globally, specific entitlement amounts are adjusted by country to comply with local statutory minimums, which in some jurisdictions exceed the India-based entitlements set out in Sections 2-9. HR Business Partners maintain a country-specific leave addendum for each location, available on the intranet under "Global Mobility & International HR."

12.2 Illustrative Country Variations

Country / Region	Annual Leave Minimum	Sick Leave	Notes
India (base policy)	21 days	10 days	As described in Sections 2 and 3
United Kingdom	28 days (incl. bank holidays)	Statutory Sick Pay scheme	Pro-rated for part-year service
United States	No federal statutory minimum	Company policy: 10 days	State-level paid sick leave laws may apply
Germany	24 working days (6-day week basis)	Up to 6 weeks employer-paid	Strict carry-forward rules under local law
Philippines	5 days Service Incentive Leave (statutory)	Per SSS sickness benefit rules	Company enhances to align with global minimums
United Arab Emirates	30 calendar days	90 days (tiered pay)	Per UAE Labour Law

12.3 Resolving Conflicts

Where the country-specific addendum and this policy differ, the more generous provision (from the employee's perspective) applies, except where local law mandates a specific maximum that the Company cannot exceed for regulatory reasons.

12.4 Public Holiday Calendars Abroad

As noted in Section 8.5, remote employees follow their local public holiday calendar. HR publishes each location's calendar by 30 November of the preceding year.

12.5 Time Zone Considerations for Leave Approval

Manager approval timelines (Section 11.2) are measured in the working days of the approving manager's location, but employees should account for time zone differences when planning leave that requires cross-border coordination, particularly for client-facing roles.

13. Leave in Special Circumstances

13.1 Quarantine and Public Health Emergency Leave

Where a government authority mandates quarantine or isolation (for example, during a declared public health emergency) and the employee is unable to work remotely, the Company grants paid Public Health Emergency Leave for the mandated period, distinct from the standard sick leave entitlement, upon submission of the relevant government or medical advisory.

13.2 Examination Leave

Employees pursuing a Company-sponsored or HR-approved professional certification or further education programme may apply for up to 3 days of paid Examination Leave per year, in addition to standard annual leave, upon submission of the examination admit card or equivalent confirmation.

13.3 Relocation Leave

Employees relocating between Company office locations at the Company's request are entitled to up to 3 days of paid Relocation Leave to manage the practical aspects of the move, separate from annual leave, to be used within 30 days of the relocation date.

13.4 Leave for Court Appearances Unrelated to Civic Duty

Where an employee is required to appear in court for a personal legal matter not covered by Section 10.3 (Jury Duty / Civic Duty Leave), the absence is generally treated as annual leave or unpaid leave, at the employee's choice, unless the matter arises directly from the employee's employment (for example, a work-related legal proceeding), in which case it is treated as duty leave with pay.

13.5 Natural Disaster and Force Majeure

In the event of a natural disaster, civil emergency, or similar force majeure event affecting an employee's location, the Company may declare a temporary office closure or remote-work mandate; time affected by such a declaration is not deducted from any individual leave balance.

13.6 Leave Interaction with Disciplinary Suspension

Paid suspension pending a disciplinary investigation (see Terms of Employment, Section 11.2) is recorded separately from annual, sick, or casual leave and does not deplete any leave balance.

14. Frequently Asked Questions

Q: I am on probation — can I take annual leave for a pre-booked family wedding?

A: Leave accrues during probation but, per Section 2.3, may generally only be taken after confirmation. HR may approve an exception for a genuine, pre-existing commitment such as a family wedding; raise this with HR as early as possible.

Q: My casual leave balance is exhausted but I have a genuine emergency — what are my options?

A: You may apply for annual leave (if balance is available), sick leave (if the emergency is health-related and you meet notification/certification requirements), or, as a last resort, Leave Without Pay under Section 9.

Q: Can I take annual leave and sick leave in the same week?

A: Yes, provided each is correctly categorised and, where required, supported by appropriate documentation; a single absence period should not be split between categories simply to avoid medical certification requirements.

Q: Does annual leave accrue while I am on maternity leave?

A: Yes, in most cases annual leave continues to accrue during statutory maternity leave; confirm the specific treatment with HR, as this may vary by location-specific addendum.

Q: What happens to my leave balance if I transfer between Narsimha Tech office locations?

A: Your accrued India-based leave balance carries forward; if the transfer is to an international remote location with a different leave addendum, HR will provide a written explanation of how your balance is treated going forward.

Q: Can my manager deny a leave request outright?

A: A manager may decline or ask to reschedule a specific request based on genuine business needs (for example, a critical project deadline or insufficient team coverage), but should not unreasonably or repeatedly deny an employee's ability to use their entitled leave; persistent denial may be raised via the grievance process in Section 11.4.

Q: I forgot to apply for leave in the portal before going on planned leave — what should I do?

A: Submit the application retrospectively as soon as possible, ideally within 5 working days of returning, per Section 11.6; persistent failure to record leave promptly may be addressed informally by your manager.

Q: Are public holidays observed by clients but not by Narsimha Tech treated as working days?

A: Yes, the employee follows the Narsimha Tech holiday calendar applicable to their base location, not the client's calendar, unless a specific client-aligned working calendar has been agreed for the engagement and documented by HR.
